Co. conducts real-time research, so Credit Risk Assessments contain the most current information intended to aid in the credit granting decision process. The information reviewed and verified is obtained from various public record resources provided by federal, state, county, and municipal agencies; no actual credit reports have been obtained on either the named business or any individual. Co. makes no specific recommendation either for or against the granting of terms; that decision is the sole responsibility of the credit grantor. Co makes no guarantee as to the customer's ability or willingness to pay within terms should terms be granted. Co. holds no liability should the customer become delinquent in their payments due or default on any agreement executed between the parties.
